

reportam

Many costumers are less likely to buy from companies who leave complaints unanswered. Now they do not have to worry about their feedbacks. Reportam is the place where customers can give reviews about the company services it will analyze the reviews of customer's wither it is bad or good, if it is good it will be a compliment for company which will report in higher rating. If feedback negative then it will be reported as a complain, which will be followed by the lower rating for the company. The companies need to register on the reporter and can improve their services by taking the feedback analysis. In addition to this if, company becomes responsive mean responding to the customer's feedback properly then there will be higher chance of increment in rating of a company.

Therefore, it is helping both customers and companies to resolve their issues and companies to provide best services.
